

Only a Daddy's love

Revelation 3: 19- 20

In 1974 a friend of mine had gotten this girl pregnant and they got married.

Not long after his wife had the baby he and I were talking in a restaurant and he proceeded to tell me all about how he and this other girl were sexually fooling around in the hospital at the moment his wife was giving birth to his child.

He was telling me this with such pride on his face, he was very proud of himself of what he was doing like this was some great trophy.

One day I was driving along and I happened to see his car parked in the parking lot; I went over and let air out of his back right tire where the tire was very low.

I waited around and saw him walking up to his car to see the expression on his face when he saw his tire flat.

He then went about changing the tire so he could get on his way.

I chuckled to myself that will teach him and went on my way.

One day I was driving along and was making a left turn into a store.

I was stopped in the center turning lane waiting for the traffic to clear and all of a sudden it was like a jack was pulled out from under my left front wheel.

The tire went flat so fast the car shook.

My mind instantly went back to the week before at the time I let the air out of the other guys tire.

I went through the process of changing the tire and later took the tire back to the place that I purchased it.

They checked the tire and found that it had a defect and replaced it at no charge.

What I had done to this fellow came back on me I had no right to teach this fellow a lesson.

We both had the inconvenience of changing a tire and no money out of our pocket.

This experience taught me that God is very real and he was not going to let my bad behavior go unpunished. I'm grateful that he did this when I was young in life to help establish the direction that I went.

God is not mocked we will reap what we sow. From what I've read and know about God love is the most important thing to sow into our lives and others and everything else will take care of itself.

As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten: be zealous therefore, and repent. Behold, I stand at the door, and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me. Revelation 3: 19- 20
